This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PART II.

THE TEACHER'S METHOD.

INTRODUCTORY NOTES.

BEFORE entering upon the consideration of the Phonetic Method of teaching children to read, a few remarks or suggestions on the subject generally may not be out of place.

Age at which children should begin to learn. It is now generally considered that the proper age for the average child is five years. This opinion is largely endorsed and is supported by the Rev. T. W. Sharpe, H.M.I. Much, however, may be done before this age to educate the ear, to correct faulty pronunciation, and to lay the foundation of accurate speaking. Children should especially be encouraged to notice the accepted pronunciation of words, so that they may in the future avoid idiosyncrasies to which even well-educated people are generally found liable. A very little observation will, in fact, show that there are few people whose pronunciation is not marked by some peculiarity special to themselves. Many of these faults arise from an attempt to pronounce in accordance with spelling. This tendency is best counteracted by an early training in observation of sound, and by the formation of a habit of dependence on the ear, rather than upon the eye.

Voice Production. Teachers should study the art of voice production, admirably expounded in Browne & Behnke's Voice, Song and Speech (Sampson, Low & Co.). The children cannot practise all the exercises there recommended, but the teacher should—

1. Set them a good pattern. The imitative faculty is so strong in little children that this will be very helpful to them.

Digitized by Google

2. Make them practise simple exercises in breathing before each reading lesson. Let the children sit resting their backs, with head and shoulders back, one hand on the ribs and the other on the abdomen, and slowly fill their lungs, with mouths shut. Then let them open their mouths and let the breath escape. This to be repeated at least twice; the teacher either breathing with the children, or slowly raising the hand as a sign for filling the lungs.

When the children have learnt how to do this properly, they may vary the exercise by letting the hands hang at their sides, or by standing whilst they breathe.

3. As the English are very lazy in using their lips, tongue, and jaws, let them learn how each sound is formed, as far as children are capable of understanding this; and let the teacher, in teaching each sound, somewhat exaggerate the movements, so as to give due exercise to the vocal organs.

4. Above all, be very careful to guard against letting the children stoop, or even drop their chins, when they are reading aloud. The larynx, or voice-box, cannot do its work properly unless the teacher exercises great vigilance in making the children hold their heads up all the time. If possible, have desks which raise the book for reading. Otherwise, the children must hold the books well up in their hands.

Spelling. One advantage of the phonetic system of teaching to read is, that hardly any spelling aloud will be necessary. But a small amount of spelling aloud will be useful. The teacher may sometimes want to dictate a word. Moreover, some at least of the children will already know the old names for the letters, and a little practice in spelling aloud will be necessary to accustom them to the new names. And in some cases it may be difficult to read off a new word at sight without first spelling it.

In spelling, the teacher must not only use the new names for the letters, but must be very careful to observe the following rules:—

1. Digraphs must invariably be taken together, being regarded as single letters. This rule applies not only to ng, wh, th, dh, sh, zh, ch, oe, ey, ow, ai, au, oi, to each of which a separate section is devoted, but to (yû, yu, êa, îa, ôa, ûa), as in (tyûn, regyular, bêar, bîar, bôar, bûar)—tune, regular, bear, bier, boar, boor.

The yu in regyular is to be called short yu (shôt yu).

2. The letters œ, æ, e, i, o, u, called, when they stand alone, œt, æt, et, it, ot, ut, on account of the difficulty of pronouncing these vowels without a consonant following, are to be taken with the consonant that follows. So the children will divide as follows:— p, ig is pig, b, ig is big; or simply say p, ig, pig, and so on. Other examples of analysis are th-ing, wh-ich, s-ing-ing, W-il-iz.

3. Two of the above six letters, namely i and u, sometimes stand at the close of a syllable, though u is very rarely found in this position, except as forming part of the diphthong yu. Examples: Wil-i, Tom-i, pos-i-bli, tu, in-tu, in-flu-ans. In such cases, as they cannot be taken with a following consonant, let i be called simply by the sound that it has in Tomi, without any t sound following; and as it is difficult to make the u short when isolated, let it be called short u (shôt u), and kept quite distinct from (yû) and (yu).

Blackboard Writing. A clear method of blackboard writing should be adopted, remembering that at an early age the eyesight is weak. The simplest possible forms should be used; the letters must not be script, but such as the children can form without difficulty, or put together with Kindergarten materials. In the earlier lessons capitals only should be used.

THE PHONETIC METHOD.

We now pass from general considerations to the Phonetic Method itself. It is assumed that the teacher is already familiar with the Manual, to which constant references will be given. It is now only necessary to give some guidance in the application of the system to the particular work of teaching to read.

The following is recommended as a general scheme, and will serve as a useful introduction to a series of detailed lessons, and notes based upon the Child's Key, and intended for use either in connection with it, or as an independent guide to blackboard lessons for young children.

CHAPTER I.

THE CONSONANTS ILLUSTRATED, WITH THE VOWELS I AND A.

Note.—The references (M 4, L 20, etc.) are to the pages of the Manual and Word Lists.

OUTLINE SCHEME OF LESSONS.

1. Give the sound clearly, reiterating it in a phrase.
2. Name the sound. E.g., Ta.
3. Choose a representative word and object. E.g., "T for tit," "B for bat and ball." If possible, draw on board, or show the object.
4. Make the children notice where the sound is formed (whether with lips, tongue, throat, etc.). Let them, if possible, see the teacher's movements.[1]
5. Make the children sound the letter (1) in a word; (2) alone.
6. Illustrate by a person or thing making the sound.
7. Show the symbol on the board (capital letter). Let the children print it, and say it from their slates.
8. Let them print a word, then say it.[2]
9. Teach second form of symbol (small letter). (This may be omitted in the earlier stages.)
10. Question the children—
    (1) On the new lesson.
    (2) On their former knowledge, working in the new lesson.

[1] Reference to the Manual should be made repeatedly with regard to this part of the instruction, until the teacher is thoroughly conversant with the method of forming each letter. The page of the Manual is noted thus (M 1, etc.) on each lesson.

[2] Select for this purpose words spelt alike in phonetic and ordinary spelling, as fit, pit, men, etc.

Practise word-building with the above letters:—It, pit, bit, etc. Teacher to rub out first letter of the word, and substitute each letter in turn. The children to read thus:—

"pa-it is pit";
"ba-it is bit," etc.

Let them practise singing monosyllables of one family, thus:—

WORD-BUILDING. KEY E♭.

| | Tit, | | | | pit, | | | | bit, | | | | fit. | | | | | | |

The teacher will be able to adapt sets of less than four words to this tune by repeating one or two of them, thus:—"give, live, give, live," or "dish, wish, fish, dish." It will be best to write the words on the board under one another, and the children should learn to sing them as the teacher points to each in succession.

LESSON 10. D; da (M 11).

D for "*D*ora's *d*ear *d*olly."

Water dripping says "da, da."

Note.—Five out of the six stops (M 12) have now been taught, and may be rehearsed in order. P, B; T, D; K, noticing where they are formed.

LESSON 11. L; la. (M 16).

L for "*l*ittle *l*amb." "*L*izzie is *l*eading a *l*amb."

R for "*R*obin." "*R*ose is feeding a *r*obin *r*ed-breast."

Dog growling says, r r r.

Teach children to make a prolonged trill.

---

Practise word-building with the six words—bid, did, kid, lid, rid, hid:—

"Ba-id is bid," etc. (see tune above).

---

[1] Take here R as an initial only. Final r (being sometimes sounded, and sometimes silent) is best dealt with later.

LESSON 16. A (M 8. Further notes p. 42).

A for "*A*nemone" and "*A*meli*a*."

Note.—The sound a is also familiar in the words a and dha. These should always be taken with the nouns which follow, and should not (except in cases of special emphasis) be pronounced ey and dhî (a, the). Before a vowel, dhi is used, e.g., "dhi, âk" (the ark). This lesson (being the second vowel lesson) will be found a good opportunity to explain the nature of a vowel, as giving voice to the consonants (see M 12). Other vowel-sounds may be referred to, such as I (of which the symbol has already been taught), and others, such as ow, ey, î, â, may be suggested by the children, though the symbols are not yet known.

LESSON 17. W; wa (M. 22).

M and N. Notice where they are formed, and which are voiced (M 12, 16).

Teach children to sing, first to lâ, and then to the words—

LESSON 19. V; va (M 22).

V for "*V*ictoria."

LESSON 20. ZH; zha (as in "meas*u*re") (M 23).

LESSON 21. J; ja (M 24).

G for "*g*iraffe."

Teach that D, ZH, makes J, Use the word hedger (phonetically hedzha, or heja) to show this. Let the children first hear hed and then hedzh, hedzha, and they will see that J is short for dzh.

LESSON 22. NG; nga or ing (M 16).

Bell says "di*ng*, do*ng*."

If possible, teach name as nga; but if this is impracticable, then as ing.

Here teach six stops, and five liquids in order (M 12, 16).

LESSON 23. TH; tha (as in "Ber*tha*") (M 23).

TH for "*th*imble."

LESSON 24. SH; sha (M 23).

SH for "*sh*ip." Mother says "sh" when baby is asleep.

LESSON 25. CH; cha (as in "pit*ch*er") (M 24).

T, SH makes CH. CH for *ch*icken.

Who says "CH"? *Ch*arlie when he sneezes.

This double consonant is best taught by comparing cat and catch (kæt, and kætsh, or kæch), and prolonging the sound of

Digitized by Google

sh in catch, which will show very clearly that there is a sound of sh after t.

If a name is wanted for the symbol C in CH, which, however, never stands alone, it may be called by its old name sî.

Lesson 26. WH; wha (M 22).

WH for "*wh*ip."—If difficult, begin by saying hûip (hû pronounced like who) and then say it over more and more quickly till you arrive at whip.

Lesson 27. Y; ya (M 23).

Y for "*y*acht."

Teach all the consonants in order, and notice, as far as possible, how each is made. Practise dividing the 23 single consonants into classes:—(1) According to place, as lip, lip-teeth, etc. (2) According to form, as stops, nose-consonants, etc.; and (3) as breath or voiced consonants.

CH and J may be called double consonants.

Teach children to sing—

CHAPTER II.

READING LESSONS, AND ILLUSTRATIONS OF THE VOWELS.

So far we have dealt mainly with the consonants, 23 single and two double. Of the vowels, we have taken only two, namely, I and A. There remain, therefore, 14 vowel-sounds besides five diphthongs:—ai, au, oi, yû, and yu.

The diphthongs compounded with a (êa, îa, ôa, ûa) will be dealt with under the head of the vowels ê, î, ô, û.

In the reading lessons the teacher must be careful to teach the children to read with expression, and especially to use the rising inflection in the questions, and to read the commands with firmness and decision. They should also learn to notice that in some sentences one word must be decidedly louder than the rest, e.g., on p. 13:—"Iz dhis a pig? It iz a pig. It iz a big pig. It iz Willz pig."

The teacher should also take care that the unemphatic and and dhat are pronounced with the weak vowel a, as in "*a*nemone." The demonstrative is written thus:—"dhæt mæn." The sounding of the d in and is not to be insisted on unless it is followed by a vowel, or by r, or w, or y; these being the only consonants which combine easily with d. The d can be pronounced, for instance, in "come and rest," cp. "drest"; in "strong and well," cp. "dwell"; "Willy and you," cp. "dew" (dyû); but not in "dha kid an dha pig."

Many words (besides and) have two forms, weak and strong, but the only words written in their weak forms in this system of teaching to read are the articles and the preposition to. The strong forms of these are ey, æn, dhî, tû, and the weak ones, a, an, dhi, dha, tu. The teacher should, however, teach the children to use weak forms of other words as soon as they are able to put several words together and to read with expression, passing lightly over the words which should have no stress.

Some of the most important of the variable words, arranged according to the order in which the vowels are taught, are as follows:—

| | | Strong. | Weak. | | | Strong. | Weak. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| i. | him | him | im | æ. | have | hæv | hav, av |
| | his | hiz | iz | | shall | shæl | shall |

The breathing exercises should be continued, and great vigilance used to guard against stooping, or even dropping the chin, whilst reading aloud, as this must interfere with the voice production.

Lesson 1.

I; name: it (see page 39 in Manual). (M 40, L I 8).

Note.—In spelling, all the short vowels should be taken with the consonant following; e.g., "pa, ig is pig"; "ma, et is met."

Here practise adding final syllables or a final z, as well as changes in initial letters, thus:—Lili, Wili, nitid, fitid, mising, and so on with z, iz, etc.

Lesson 2. E; et (M 40; L I 5).

E for Elifant (elephant).

In teaching word-building, be careful not to let the children say, "par, et is pet." They will be inclined to insert r if they are not checked. The same applies to a before a vowel; e.g., Ema et a fish.

Practise substituting e for i, and vice versâ, in such pairs of words as pit, pet. All the following words are suitable for this treatment:—it, pit, sit, nit, lid, bid, rid, hid, pig, big, him, pin, tin, siting, niting, wil, til, mis.

The children might here be taught the use of final ar, as in fitar, givar, etc. Notice that this sound is almost always followed by r before a vowel. The r is therefore retained in spelling, unless the a is followed (in the same word) by some other consonant, e.g., fitar, fitaz (M 50). Practise reading r sounded before a vowel, as in "dha fâdhar iz bizi"; silent before a consonant, as in "dha fâdhar wil bî bizi"; and omitted with another consonant, as fâdhaz, remembad.

Lesson 3. Î for Îgl' (*ea*gle) (M 29, L I 9).

Little pig says, "wî, wî."

Compare vowel sounds in i and î.

Practise substituting î for i, as in hît, bît, sît, nît, lîd, rîd, bîd, fîl, pîl, hîl, rîch, corresponding with hit, bit, etc.

Children should practise saying â î â î â without stopping between the vowels; and observe how the mouth is wide open for â, whilst chin and tongue rise for î.

Teach the following, first to lâ, and then to lî.

Tune for the Vowels. Key F.

| d : t, | t, : t, d :— | s, :— | d : m | s :— | f : r | d :— |

Lesson 4. Ey (M 29, L I 7).

Ey for Eykôn (acorn).

Who says Ey? Old Betty who is deaf.

Compare the sounds ey and e (geyt and get). Children should pronounce â ey â ey â without stopping between, and then â ey î ey â in the same way, and notice how the tongue, for ey rises higher than for â, but not so high as for î.

Digitized by Google

Practise singing the tune for the vowels to ley, making the finishing i sound very short indeed. The children will be inclined to make the first part of ey short, and to end with a long î unless properly instructed.

LESSON 5. Æ; æt (M 40; L I 2).

Æ for Æpl' (apple).

(Also for Ægnis, Ælbat, ængkar, æsh, æligeytar, Ælfred, etc.)

The lamb says "mææ."

Notice that a large number of words in this section have weak forms (see p. 14). The most frequent of these is and. The children should not be allowed to pronounce it as ænd except after a stop.

LESSON 6. O; ot (M 40; L I 10).

O for Orinj (orange). O is like an orange.

Teaching the ending o' (short o).

Examples:—Pilo', medo'.

LESSON 7. Ô (M 31; L I 10).

Ô for Ôgan (organ).

Rook says ô—kô, kô (caw).

Avoid thôring, sôring for thôing, sôing, and Rowz sôr Eymi, for sô Eymi (Rose saw Amy).

Ô and ÔA. In such words as pô, sô, thô (paw, saw, thaw), the vowel should be unaltered, and should not close with a faint sound of a. This is allowed only with words spelt with r, such as môar, dôar, fôar (more, door, four). Compare sound ô with ot (port, pot).

LESSON 8. Ow for Owk (oak). (M 30; L I 15).

(Leaves seen on our coins. Acorns grow on it.)

Teach formation of ow and û.

Practise saying â û â û â without pausing between them, and show how the lips are rounded, whilst the back of the tongue is raised for û.

Digitized by Google

Then practise â ow û ow â, and show how ow is intermediate between â and û.

Sing the tune for the vowels (see p. 15) to low, and do not let the children end with a long û, but dwell as long as possible on the first sound, and finish off with a short u.

When they have mastered this exercise, let them learn to pronounce ê as in Mêri, fêri (Mary, fairy).

Lesson 9. Œ; œt.

Œ for Œmbréla (umbrella) (M 40; L I 13).

(The children must not say œmbaréla, making four syllables.)

Teach endings n' and l'. Show that when words are in two parts, which we call syllables, we generally have a vowel in each syllable. E.g., in Lesson 6 we have in the second syllables of hotar, joging, sorî, folo', the vowels a i o'. But in kœpl', bœtn', etc., we have no vowel in the second syllable—only l' or n', and these consonants are called syllabic (M 19).

Lesson 10. OE for Oen (urn). (M 32; L I 12).

Note that were is to be pronounced as rhyming with her (woer, hoer), and not like wear (wêar).

Compare sound oe with œt (bird, bud).

Let the children learn the long vowels and sing them thus:—

Long Vowels. Key F.

| d : | $t_1$ : $t_1$ | d :— | $s_1$ :— | d : m | s :— | f : r | d :— ‖ |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Long | vowels, | â, | oe, | ê ey | î | ô, ow | û |

Lesson 11. U; ut (M 40; L I 16).

U for ruk (rook).

This vowel does not occur at the beginning of any English word.

The children should learn to repeat the names of the short vowels, and sing them thus:—

LESSON 12. Û for Shû (shoe). (M 30; L I 17). or Sûziz tû blû shûz.

This vowel is not found at the beginning of any very easy English word. We have it, however, in ooze (ûz).

Compare the position of the lips for â, ow, û. The diphthong ûa in poor, sure (pûar, shûar) must be pronounced carefully, and not altered to ôa, as in pore, shore. Young children find some difficulty in pronouncing it.

The diphthongs yû and yu (names:—yû and short yû) occur in the reading lesson.

LESSON 13. Â for Âk (ark). (M 29; L I 1).

Â is the best sound for singing, because we open our mouths so wide, and the voice is heard so clearly.

LESSON 14. AI for Ais (ice). (M 49; L I 3).

French boy when hurt says ai ai ai.
Show how ai is made by saying â î very quickly.

LESSON 15. AU for Aul (owl). (M 49; L I 4).

Show that â û said very quickly makes au.

LESSON 16. OI for Oistar (oyster). (M 49; L I 14.

Show that ô î said quickly makes oi.
Let the children sing:—

In singing ai, au, and oi, let the first part of the diphthong be dwelt upon, and the last made quite short.

LESSON 17. Ê for Êar-bôl (air-ball). (M 31; L I 6).

The children should learn to pronounce this sound without a following it, which requires a little practice. The mouth must be wide open, and the tongue lower than for ey.

CHAPTER III.

DRILL IN THE SHORT VOWELS.

When the children have finished Lesson 17, they may at once begin to read any easy stories suited to their comprehension; but as it is difficult to pronounce short stressed vowels without a consonant following, this exercise on the short vowels, combined with the consonants, will be found very useful. The most difficult combinations will be found to be those of u with a consonant following, as we are not accustomed to sound u at the beginning of a word, and those ending in r, as we do not commonly sound final r; it is, however, useful to learn to do this.

CHAPTERS IV. AND V.

CONSONANT DRILL, BEGINNINGS AND ENDINGS.

As all the words in the Child's Key begin with single consonants, it will be desirable, whilst using the first Reader, to let the children practise also this drill in putting consonants together.
